DAVE SAUNDERS

Dave Saunders was known to cover a lot of ground in the outfield for the Sutherland's Marysville Royals over his career as a baseball player. He has covered a lot of ground as a volunteer too.

As a business owner of Neill's Sporting Goods, he sponsored minor hockey and baseball teams. As a minor hockey and baseball coach, he coached competitive level teams at the bantam level.

Saunders served as president of the executive of the senior baseball Royals. He was a team manager in minor hockey and has been treasurer of the Fredericton Youth Hockey Association. He has also served as treasurer and equipment co-ordinator for Fredericton's Brendon Oreto Foundation, which purchases and distributes equipment to some 200 needy hockey players in the Fredericton area. Dave also was a founder and chairman of the Leo Hayes Dairy Queen Invitational hockey tournament, which is an annual event now on the hockey calendar
